

MUSIC, PERFORMING ARTS AND URBAN FESTIVALS

CULTURAL PLANS FOR 365 DAYS

Music, performing arts and urban festivals inundate the streets and alleys of the city of Valencia throughout the year. The art created in the city is passed on to the citizens so that they can take part in hundreds of activities aimed at promoting the culture of a people that have music in their veins.

Besides the Orquesta de València, famous Valencian musicians travel with their jazz throughout the world, and day after day many venues fill the Valencian evenings and nights with music or theatre, not to mention the wide range of festivals where thousands of people gather, all of which play an ever more prominent role.

Its rich cultural leisure offerings, covering 365 days a year, make Valencia a city worthwhile visiting, not only for its heritage monuments but also for the intangible heritage, comprising a wide range of activities.

Valencia opens its windows to culture in the widest sense for the enjoyment of all audiences. This publication invites you to get to know a selection of what the city provides for us; you only have to choose what you fancy... because you will not be left wanting for options! Welcome.

MUSIC

Valencia eats, drinks and breathes music. Half of Spanish musicians were born in Valencia as music is part of our culture and our DNA. Hence the immense cultural value of musical societies, organised under the Federación de Sociedades Musicales de la Comunidad Valenciana (FSMCV), which has 200,000 members, 40,000 musicians and 60,000 students.

The variety of music in the city brings together everything from pop music to the classical sounds of Capella de Ministrers (ICMA award in 2018), including bands, orchestras, chamber groups, choirs, rock groups, jazz and every genre you could imagine.

Two great bastions, Palau de le Arts and Palau de la Música, are the epicentres for any enthusiast of classical music, opera and large-scale productions. Musical experiences in Valencia also include countless music halls and venues for small-format concerts, open-air music on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea, and a rich programme of artists from all over the world, who include Valencia on their international tours.

As you can see, Valencia has all the ingredients to be the new Music City. It is no coincidence that Berklee College of Music established its only international campus outside the United States in Valencia. Neither is it a surprise that Plácido Domingo chose the Turia capital to locate his training centre for young musicians and singers.

Come and discover why.

1. PALAU DE LES ARTS REINA SOFÍA

This is one of the most impressive auditoriums ever built. And its programme of events is equally spectacular. Under the musical direction of Roberto Abbado, this season, operas such as Turandot, Die Zauberflöte, Iolanta, I Masnadieri and Rigoletto will have audiences on the edge of their seats. There is also a place for chamber music, dance and concerts by international figures such as the pianist Lang Lang or Plácido Domingo.

The Palau's calendar includes conferences held by Ramón Gener, two annual open days, performances by students from the Centro de Perfeccionamiento Plácido Domingo and family events and workshops, with experts devoted to spreading the passion for music among the young participants. And to complete the musical season of the Valencian musical giant, there are the performances of Sara Baras, José Mercé and Víctor Manuel. How will you know which to choose?

2. PALAU DE LA MÚSICA

If you are passionate about classical music, don't hesitate to have the most pleasurable listening experience at the Palau de la Música de València, whose exceptional acoustics are a landmark in Europe. The works of Mahler, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Rachmaninov, Sibelius and Shostakovich, among others, will be included in the Palau's programme. You will be able to see and listen to the London Philharmonic Orchestra, the Dusseldorf Symphony Orchestra, the Mariinsky Theatre Orchestra of Saint Petersburg and, of course, the Orchestra of Valencia, which has its headquarters in the Palau and supports the main musical activity of the auditorium.

There are two annual events not to be missed: the International Jazz Festival every July and the International Band Contest (IBCM), which, with more than 130 years of history, is the most important of its kind in the world.

The Menut Palau cycle, with performances aimed at younger audiences, is a perfect plan for a family visit to Valencia to learn to love and enjoy a complete repertoire of its music.

3. BERKLEE CAMPUS VALENCIA

The Berklee Campus in Valencia is the only international campus established by the prestigious Berklee College of Music outside of Boston. Located in the iconic Ciutat de les Arts i les Ciències in Valencia, the magnificent 3,600 square metre campus has been designed specifically for music and is equipped with state-of-the-art technology.

It aims to provide a centre to launch the careers of the most talented international musical students. It offers a unique study programme and an International Career Center to assist people in their transition from students to music professionals.

The Berklee Campus in Valencia has established strong ties with Valencian society through the more than 100 free concerts and festivals it offers in places as emblematic as the Ciutat de les Arts i les Ciències, the Centre del Carme de Cultura Contemporànea or the Bancaja Cultural Centre. Its programme includes the series of open-air concerts "Un lago de conciertos" and the "Musaico Festival"; however, its cultural activity in the city goes beyond this.

With a diverse student body representing more than 100 countries, a significant international community, and alumni and teachers who have collectively won more than 300 Grammy and Latin Grammy Awards, Berklee is the world's premier learning laboratory for the music of today and the future.

4. CONSERVATORI PROFESSIONAL DE MÚSICA DE VALÈNCIA

From the very beginning, the Music Academy has been devoted to training the best professional musicians for the future. Throughout the year, its two centres have artistic and musical programmes, such as concerts, operatic and stage productions, which also include all the styles and periods of classical and jazz music.

From 1879 to the present day, a long succession of generations of great musicians have been trained at the Valencian Music Academy: Salvador Giner, José Serrano, Manuel Palau, Oscar Esplá, Vicente Asencio, José Iturbi, Joaquín Rodrigo and an unending series of noteworthy representatives of Valencia who share their knowledge in music academies, secondary schools and music schools throughout the state and abroad. Others have obtained positions as soloists or directed one of the top ten orchestral bands worldwide.

5 LA MARINA DE VALÈNCIA

It is the waterfront of Valencia. Originally, probably prior to the conquest of Jaime I, it was a small pier that has grown to the rhythm of the city. La Marina has opened its doors to culture and creativity and has established itself as the venue for sporting, nautical, cultural, social and musical events.

The pergola of La Marina offers concerts every weekend with a wide musical selection where all styles fit in. A unique experience in the best possible scenario, the Mediterranean. Admission is free.

PERFORMING ARTS

It's time to choose your seat. Broadway musicals, comedy, drama, circus, dance, family plays, hypnosis and mentalism shows. This year you can enjoy new local productions, relive the old classics, or discover international hits such as Kooza, the sixth show from the prestigious Cirque du Soleil, which will visit Valencia from 30 May to 16 June.

The most consolidated stages are in the heart of the city: century-old theatres, such as the Teatre Principal or the Olympia, historic theatres such as the Teatre Talía, or the unique Rialto Theatre with its Art Deco style, which also houses the headquarters of the Valencian film archive with original version screenings of films from down through the ages. If you are looking for a less classical programme, check the box office of Espai Rambleta and the Teatre el Musical (TEM).

The independent theatre and small companies are thriving. They generally stage performances outside the city centre, with the Valencian language having a prominent place. This is the case of the Teatre el Musical or the Sala Russafa and other alternative centres, such as the Sala Off València or Espacio Inestable. The choice is yours to make.

1. TEATRE PRINCIPAL OF VALÈNCIA

The Teatre Principal of València, located in the centre of the city, has a history of more than 150 years. It is a theatre with a typical Italian configuration in the shape of a horseshoe, and a pit for musicians that allows lyrical performances with orchestra and with a richly decorated hall with a maximum capacity of 1,100 spectators. It offers currently an uninterrupted programme of theatre, dance and music from October to June, which has been programmed by the Deputy Director of Performing Arts of the Institut Valencià de Cultura.

2. TEATRE RIALTO

Located in Plaza del Ayuntamiento, it was built in 1939 as an initiative of the González Galindo family. The architectural project is a design of Cayetano Borso di Carminat, who also designed the innovative factory that today houses the Bom-bas Gens Art Centre. It is a rationalist style building with Art Deco influences. In the subsequent refurbishment, a hall was set up for the cinematographic projections of the Filmoteca, along with a hall for stage performances. With a capacity for 300 spectators, it offers from October to June on-going performances of the best theatre, dance and music in small and medium format, staging Valencian, national and international productions.

3. TEATRO OLYMPIA

The Olympia Theatre is one of the top theatres in Valencia. The theatre, located in the centre of the city and with a history that goes back more than 100 years, opened its doors to the public in 1915 with powerful stage performances. It later became a cinema for over 50 years, before returning once again to its theatrical programme in the 1980s. Currently, it has an annual programme that includes comedies, drama, classic theatre, musical plays and theatre for children, in addition to dance, ballet, opera, zarzuela, monologues and magic shows.

12 TEATRE EL MUSICAL (TEM)

Boasting the highest door in the whole city, this particular theatre conducts several activities both for the local residents and the whole of Valencia. The TEM is more than a theatre: it has become a model space in the cultural map of the city thanks to its scheduled artistic programmes in which quality and contemporaneity are its hallmark. Moreover, it conducts training activities, creation laboratories, conferences, workshops and activities where people participate. A cultural space for everyone in the Cabanyal district, where the performing arts are the protagonists with the aim of nurturing and enriching the cultural and social fabric of the city.

13. LA MUTANT

La Mutant is a cultural space staging performances aimed at the general public. This innovative space devoted to experimentation, reflection and citizenship holds events such as the first-ever “Festival Internacional de Circo de València”, the “Festival Pops Maritim”, the “Festival Vesos” and part of the events programmed in the Cabanyal Íntim competition.

La Mutant aims to operate as a space for reflection, experimentation, dialogue and stimulation for creative citizenship, with stage performances adapted to the evolution of new creative performance languages. At the same time, it serves a diversity of audiences that demand a clear commitment to risk. La Mutant is a venue specialising in the living arts: visual arts, new circus, contemporary dance, physical theatre, music, political actions, performance and action art.

URBAN FESTIVALS

The cultural life of the city is in constant movement. Music, urban art, circus, theatre, dance, photography and poetry are the stars of a calendar of urban festivals that has grown continuously in recent years.

There is an immense variety of formats, from multitudinous festivals with huge stages, such as the Festival de Les Arts in the Ciutat de les Arts i les Ciències, to smaller formats, with stage performances in the most unexpected places, such as the Cabanyal Íntim theatre festival, performed in the houses of the city's most seafaring neighbourhood.

No matter when you visit, you will come across works of art or performances all over the city, especially in the most lively neighbourhoods, such as Russafa, Benimaclet, Extramurs, Patraix, el Cabanyal or Ciutat Vella. Just go with the flow.

 CIUTAT VELLA OBERTA

INTRAMURS

This is considered one of the most outstanding festivals in the Valencian Community organised exclusively through private initiative, according to the Observatorio de la Cultura de Fundació Contemporànea. For ten days, it fills the historic centre with hundreds of artistic manifestations from different disciplines, such as the living arts, urban interventions, installations, exhibitions and design.

It is an initiative to experiment with risky and participative contemporary projects. The street is the backdrop of the works and the audience can intervene in the final result of the creation. Interaction with participants, visitors, tourists and neighbours is essential for the creation of new ways and concepts of making culture, making neighbourhoods and making cities. A free cultural offering where disciplines merge and complement each other, seeking experimentation, innovation and hybridisation in the arts exhibited at street level.

RUSSAFART

One of the objectives of this biennial artistic event is to make this famous Valencian neighbourhood known from a different and enriching perspective. The participating art workshops welcome visitors to personally view their works, methodology and work areas. During the event, Russafa becomes a meeting point for all those interested in art and culture: a unique opportunity to get to know the creative work of both established and less known artists.

Spectators are free to follow their own route so that they are able to get to know the life of the district in its most cultural and creative aspects.

DISTRITO 008

The streets of the Extramurs district are crowded with art, music, dance, theatre, circus, gastronomy, poetry, and fashion. An annual event with the format of an urban, neighbourhood festival, which welcomes us into the shops, restaurants and premises that show the real life of this district: one of the areas with the most leisure and cultural activities and the widest variety of bars and restaurants in the city. The events allow the general public to experience the neighbourhood from the inside while making it known to the outside.

RUSSAFA CULTURA VIVA

This is an initiative that develops projects at the community level in the Russafa district, carrying out activities and events to create a space of coexistence and exchange among the different cultures and backgrounds that this neighbourhood brings together. Among the events, Russafa Carnival stands out – a project fomenting the spirit of conciliation that fills the streets with colour. The neighbourhood becomes a space for citizenship and self-management of new independent projects in the spheres of culture, art and social movements.

VOLUMENS

It is the first International Festival of Audio & Visual Exploration held in Valencia. A sensory experience, where the senses of sight and hearing complement each other, mix, react, interact and create a unique language, transforming the spaces where the shows take place. The festival's programme revolves around audiovisual live performances and the most risky musical creations of the present day. With its extensive programme throughout the day, afternoon and evening, Volumens seeks to bring together new audiovisual trends from the national and international arena, markedly urban in nature.

12 FESTIVAL VOCIFERIO

A national festival, in which poets and independent artists meet annually to make their work known, linking it to alternative modes of production, dissemination and distribution of poetry. In June, Valencia will become the city of oral poetry with the celebration of the 8th Vociferio. Voices spread their wings and take flight. These voices will offer experimental poetry with distorted voices, electronic music, poetry in action - today the body is poetry - poetic lyrics, with poets who sing and singers who compose, revolutionary poetry: words can be used as stones to be hurled against impunity.
